10th Anniversary Celebration of LGBTQ Excellence

talent.meakproductions.com

January 2008 - January 2018

THE LEGACY OF MEAK PRODUCTIONS, INC.

Founded in 2002 in Atlanta, Georgia, Meak Productions, Inc. stands as the world's first LGBTQ-exclusive talent agency and production company, a pioneering institution built to elevate, archive, and empower queer voices across media, entertainment, and culture. What began as a bold act of representation has evolved into a global creative force. One that has shaped community storytelling for nearly a quarter century.

From its earliest years, Meak Productions established itself as a cultural architect, producing groundbreaking media, developing LGBTQ talent, and forging partnerships that brought queer visibility into spaces where it had never existed. The company's historic collaborations, including its role as the 1st LGBTQ Liaison for the Exceptional Radio Network (now WRCG Media), the International Music Conference, and MAE Corporation USA, marked a new era of inclusion in broadcast, music, and corporate culture.

Across two decades, Meak Productions has served as Media Partner or Sponsor for dozens of civic and community institutions, including Atlanta Black Pride, Out On Film, One Magical Weekend, International Day Against Homophobia, Transgender Day of Remembrance, and the International LGBTQ Travel Association. These partnerships reflect the company's long-standing commitment to advocacy, visibility, and cultural stewardship.

The legacy is also civic. Meak Productions has been honored with a City of Atlanta Proclamation, a Fulton County Proclamation, and Meak Productions Day at the Georgia State Capitol (2024), hosted by State Representative Park Cannon — affirming its impact on Georgia's cultural and LGBTQ history. Founder & Executive Producer, Miko Evans was named Out Georgia Business Alliance Member of the Year (2022), further cementing the company's leadership in the state's business and creative communities.

In 2025–26, Meak Productions expanded its global footprint with the launch of MEAK PRO MAGAZINE, a multilingual publication released across The Americas, Europe, South Africa, Japan, and Australia. The magazine serves as a cultural archive, documenting LGBTQ excellence, community milestones, and the legacy of Meak Pro Talent Agency's Hall of Fame inductees (individuals whose contributions shaped the agency's history and the broader queer and trans narrative).

Today, Meak Productions stands as a living monument to resilience, innovation, and truth-driven storytelling. Its legacy is not only in the media it creates, but in the community it uplifts, the history it preserves, and the global movement it continues to inspire. What began as a vision has become a 23-year testament to representation, empowerment, and the enduring power of LGBTQ creativity.

MEAK PRODUCTIONS™ MEDIA DIVISION

Launched in August 2009, the Media Division of Meak Productions™ emerged as one of the first LGBTQ-exclusive broadcast platforms dedicated to truth-driven storytelling, cultural preservation, and community-centered journalism. Now in its 17th Season of Media Production & Broadcasting, Meak Pro Media has become a cornerstone of queer media in Atlanta and across the nation, amplifying LGBTQ+ voices through syndicated radio shows, streaming broadcasts, live on-location coverage, and multimedia partnerships that span nearly two decades.

From its inception, the Media Division was designed to fill a critical gap; to provide authentic, professional, and consistent media representation for LGBTQ+ communities, especially Black and Brown queer audiences. Through its flagship programs, Same Gender Loving Expressions (its 1st Radio Talk Show in 09), The Various Artists Talent Showcase (its #1 Indie LGBTQ Music Show), and History of Black Gay America, Meak Pro Media has documented community milestones, elevated emerging talent, and provided a platform for conversations that shape culture, advocacy, and visibility for unsung pioneers and trailblazers.
